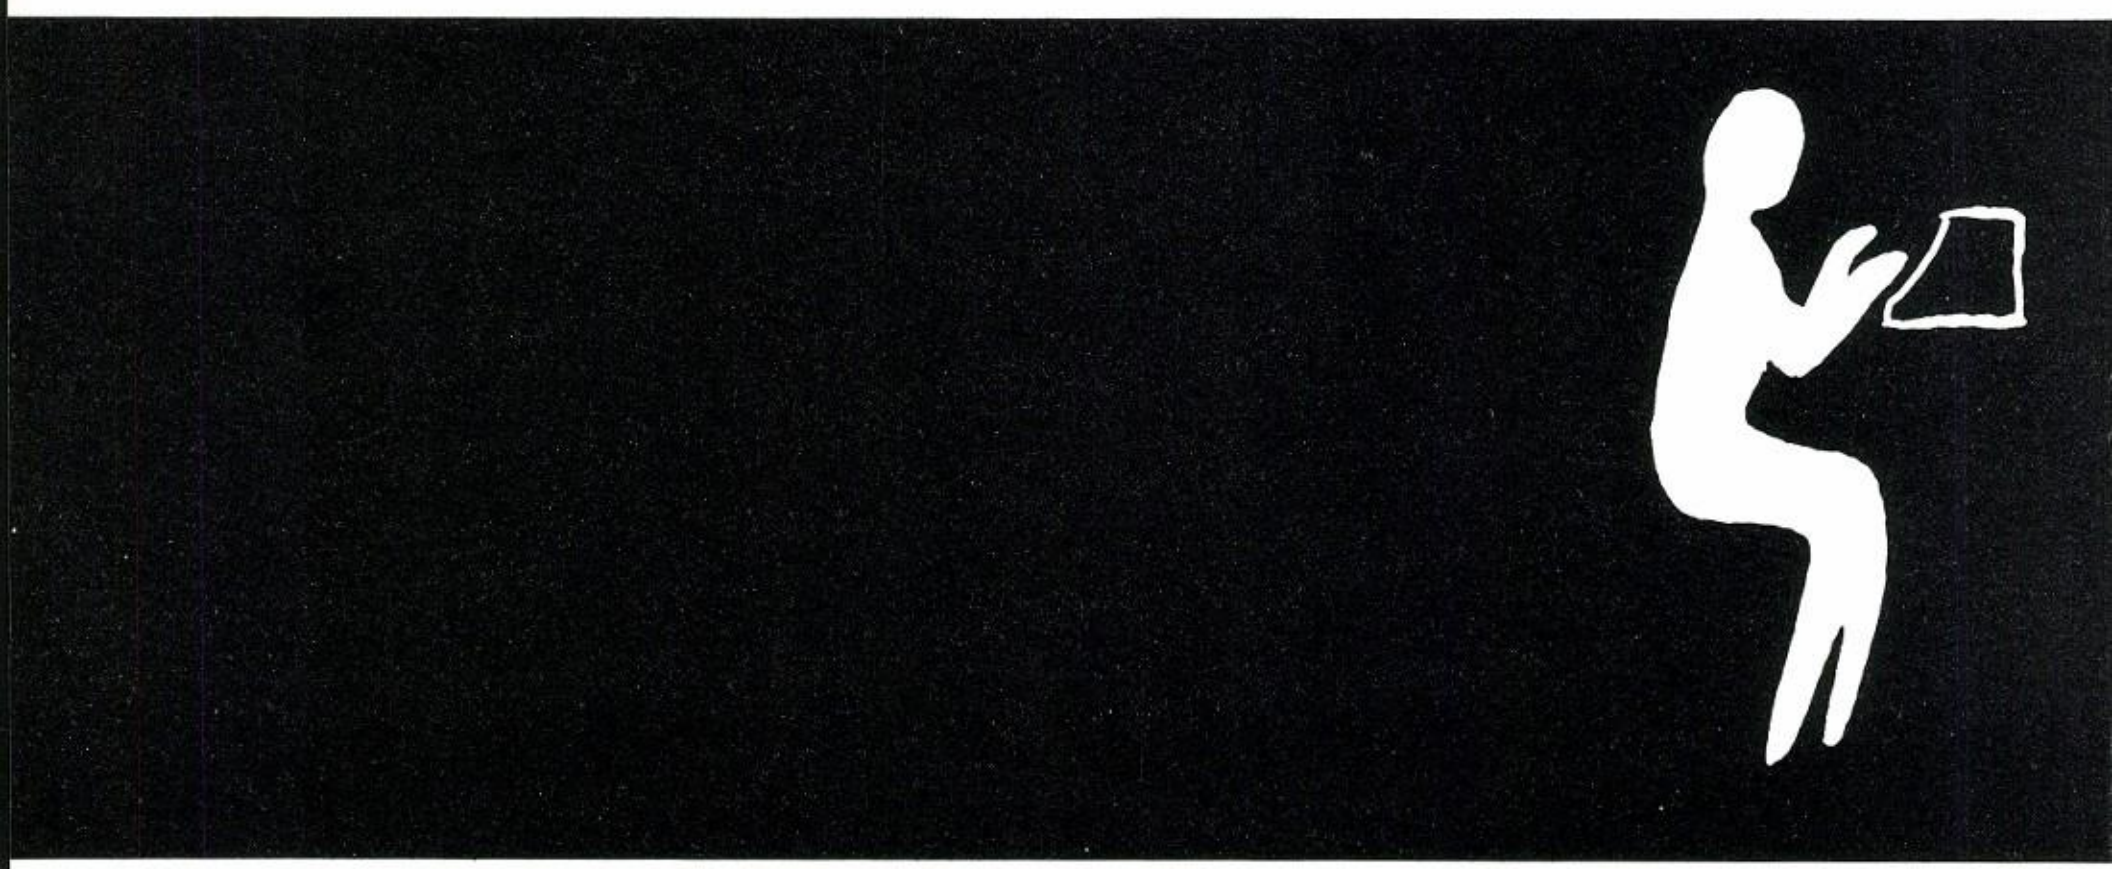
Report to the Alumni

Oscar Frommel Smith High School

South Norfolk, Virginia

THE TIGE



FOREWORD

Dear Alumni,

No man or institution stands still. He moves forward or falls behind.

Smith High School is moving forward. Each of you felt a just pride in the school from which you were graduated. For some, it was this school in this building. For others, in earlier years, there were other schools in other buildings.

That heritage is an important part of the present day Smith. It is upon your foundations that we have built.

We are proud of the finished product and we hope that you are, too.

Many changes have taken place over the years. New teachers have joined the expanded faculty, new subjects have been added to the curriculum, the inter-scholastic sports program has been enlarged, and new clubs have been formed to round out extra-curricular activities.

We ask you to come along with us on a tour of the school and to compare your schooldays with ours. First, we shall visit the faculty, some of whom you may remember as teachers who taught you during your high school days. Then, we shall join them in the classrooms where the students are working industriously. As we examine the curriculum, some of you will find that many new subjects have been added such as general music, world geography, and production typing. Our visual aids program has been greatly expanded with the addition of closed circuit television. Using this, teaching of several classes at one time, such as in the writing of research papers, can now be employed.

After classes, many extra-curricular activities are provided. Some of the clubs you knew have been succeeded by new ones. The Science and Tigerette clubs, formed recently, are examples.

In addition to this, our sports program has been expanded to include inter-scholastic wrestling and eighth grade basketball.

We, the yearbook staff of '62, invite you to come along with us at your leisure through the halls of Oscar Frommel Smith High School in this our salute to you, the alumni.

DEDICATION

Miss J. Lucile Scaff

Mrs. Martha Lindsey

To say that individuals have given great service to education is to say that which can be said about many other educators. But rare are they whose contributions to education have been as rich and varied and rewarding.

For giving guidance, insight, courage, and understanding, and being friends and an inspiration to all whom they have guided or instructed; we, the Tiger Staff humbly and gratefully dedicate the 1962 Tiger to Mrs. Martha Lindsey and Miss Lucile Scaff.

CURRICULUM

Our curriculum is well-rounded and planned for the benefit of the students. We have a wide selection of subjects designed to equip us for either work or college.

In any curriculum, the faculty is of primary importance and at Smith it is no different. Our faculty guides the students by both words and examples.

The curriculum is planned to aid the student in both intellectual gain and in the discovery of himself and his abilities.

Administration

Miss Leigh, Director of Instructions, Mr. Jackson, Director of Audio Visual Aids, Miss Smith, Textbook Clerk.

The administrative staff has always been the backbone of the school. It is because of these people that the school runs smoothly and efficiently.

Smith's administrative personnel are competent and well-trained. They lead us in a firm but just manner.

They are always ready and willing to help with any problems that arise. With wisdom they guide students in curriculum and vocational choices. They are an aid to school organizations in any worthwhile school function or activity.

Mr. Lewis must have an interesting letter.

J. WILLIAM ETHERIDGE
Principal

Dear Alumni:

I could write at length about our purposes, our curriculum, our activities, and our achievements; but such a letter is not necessary. This book has been produced by conscientious, intelligent students; and conscientious, intelligent students possess educational values that closely parallel those of teachers. Consequently, I am certain that the pictures in this book will reflect the Oscar Smith High School aspects of which the faculty and I are most proud.

Please know that you helped to establish the traditions. Also realize that you had a part in bringing about the changes that are a part of progress. Traditions and changes in schools are the results of student traits, needs, likes, and interests; some may be eternal, and some may be comparatively brief.

As you study this report of student life at Oscar Smith High School in 1961-62, may you enjoy the old memories that will be stirred, may you find interest in the innovations since you left school, and may you feel pride in the Oscar Smith High School of your day and that of today.

Yours sincerely,

J. William Etheridge

GUIDANCE ASSISTANTS Left to Right: Ophelia Twiford, Vicki Tippie, and Ricky Bell.

Guidance

Miss Cora J. McDowell, Guidance Director

Guidance services are the direct outgrowth of the values of our American culture namely, our concern for the individuality of each student, our belief in freedom of choice, in individual self realization, and in planning for the future.

The six elements comprising the guidance and counseling program at Smith are as follows: analysis, information, orientation, counseling, placement, and followup.

The S.C.A.T. and S.T.E.P. tests are given to students in order to measure their ability and achievement.

Senior, Joan Hill, takes advantage of the fine material made available to all college-bound students.

Mrs. Moore, one of the office clerks, spends much of her time writing letters for Mr. Etheridge and Mr. Lewis.

Office Staff

The office staff is concerned with the administrative business of the school. These people are necessary in order to have an efficient and smoothly running school.

Personnel of the office staff are responsible for the handling of all money, maintenance of records, correspondence, et cetera.

The office staff performs many tasks that most students never know about; but, without the accomplished tasks, the school's program would be incomplete and inefficient.

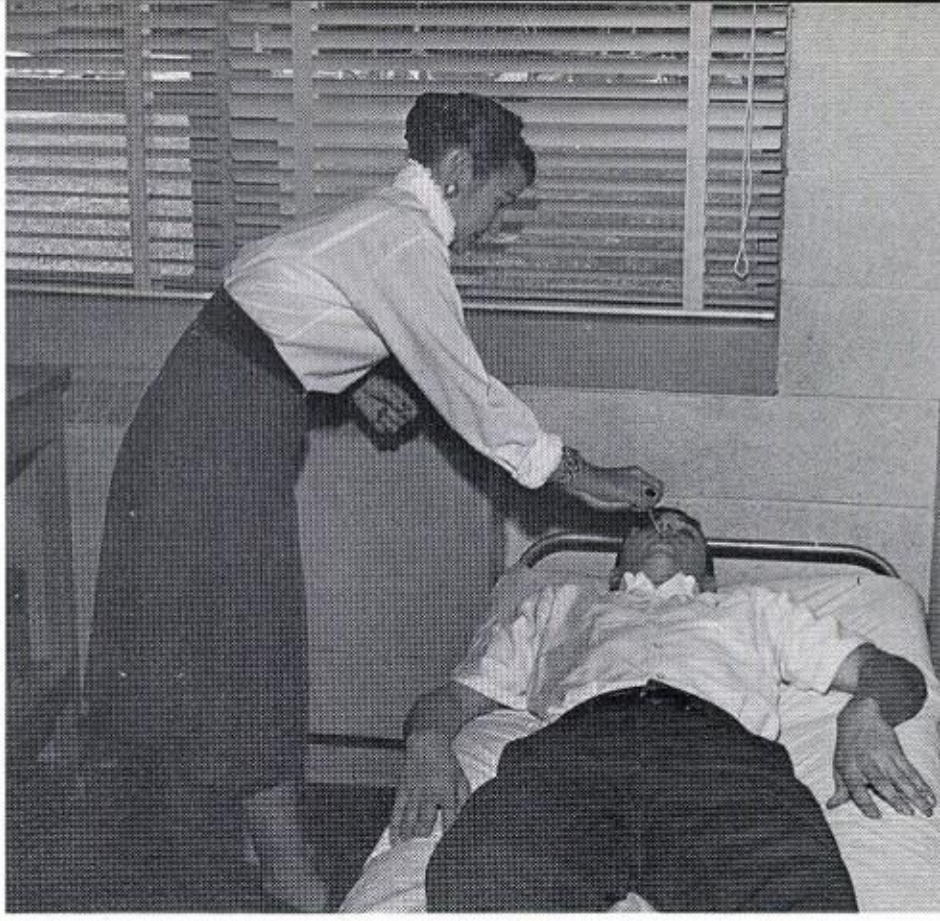
Mrs. Nannie Johnson, our bookkeeper, is in charge of Smith High's "Treasury Department."

Mrs. Forehand answers many of the calls that come to the school.

Mrs. Jones stays busy as she signs absentee notes all day.



Don't worry, Tommy. You'll live.

The attendance office is one of the busiest places in the building. The attendance clerk is responsible for keeping up with every student's attendance.

To aid her in doing this, she has many girls working in the office. These girls type, pick up absentee slips from the teachers, and help to fill out records that are kept of attendance.

Many of the teachers such as, Miss Riggleman and Mrs. Frazier, make use of Mrs. Jones' mimeograph machine.

MISS LAURAL WILCOX,
Home Economics

Arlene says in amazement, "Oh no! My finger is sewn in the material."

Home Ec.

In Home Economics girls of all classes, pre-freshmen through seniors, are offered practical experience in the performance of the various homemaking arts.

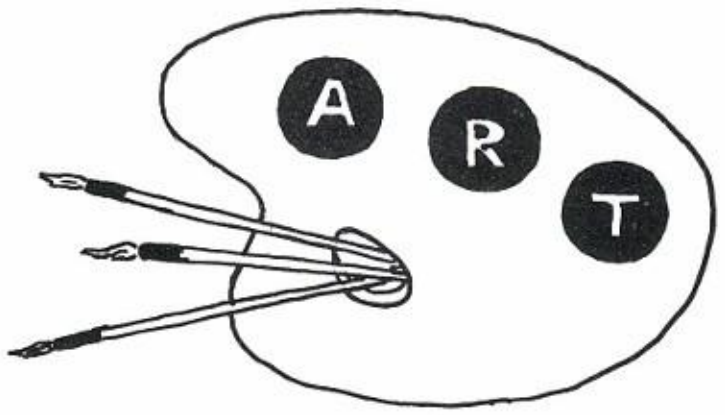
Early in the year, Home Economics students begin on their first project, sewing. Throughout the rest of the year the students plan and cook meals in studying the fundamentals of food preparation.

The students learn the basic skills such as dusting and bedmaking, and also child-care. Personal hygiene and manners are also taught during the year.

"Look Ma, I can iron."

"Does it smell that bad, Phyllis?"

MRS. AMELIA BURTON
Art



Art

The art course offered here at Smith is very popular with many of the students. In this class, many artistic abilities are recognized and developed.

In the art classes painting, with both oil and water-color paints, sculpture, and papier mache work is taught.

The art class has two bulletin boards that are outside of the art room. They are always decorated with beautiful and interesting work.

Without the help of Mrs. Burton, our art teacher, and her students, many of our social functions and activities would not have been successful. The huge tiger painted by the art students for the homecoming game is just one of the many contributions of the art department to our school.

Mrs. Burton shows her class the art of sculpture, one phase of their art training.

And Michael Angelo thought he could paint.

My mask has a Toni.

Jane decides she wants the little old lady for Christmas.

Band

The band was outstandingly fine this year at football games where the peppy music was appropriate to a victorious season. The half-time shows delighted the spectators.

The marching band also participated in parades, such as, the Oyster Bowl Parade, Fire Prevention Parade, and the "Dixie Bowl" game.

Smith High School is served musically by many excellent singing groups: the Concert Chorus, Girls' Chorus, the Choraliers, and the Triple Trio.

These groups perform in assemblies, concerts, and at special occasions such as graduation. This year these groups aided in demonstrating how television can be used for musical programs, thus enlarging the scope of music education within the school.

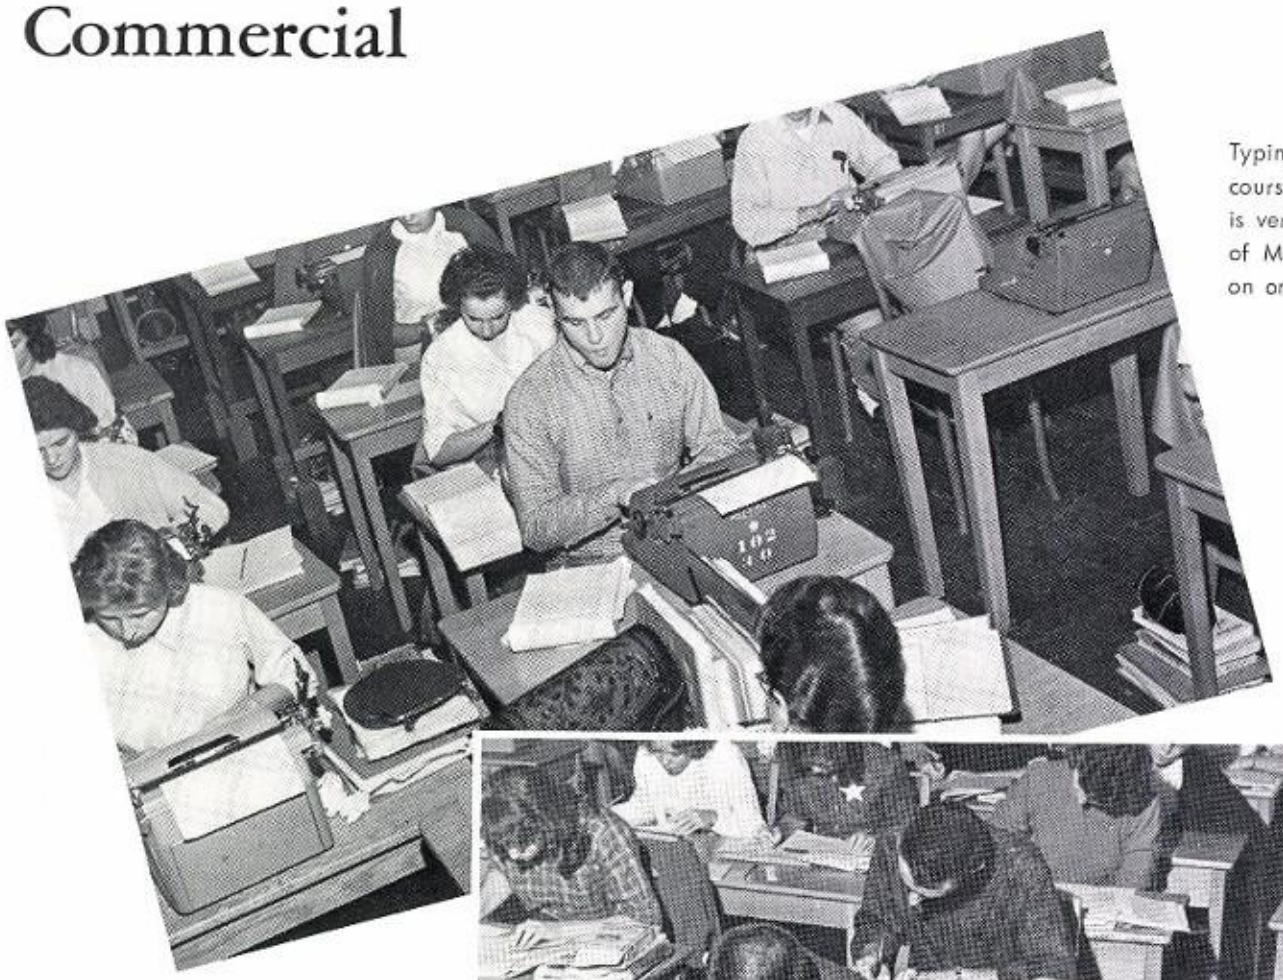
Commercial



Typing, one of the most popular commercial courses offered, requires much concentration and is very helpful after graduation. Here we see one of Miss Riggleman's typing classes busily working on one of the many time-writings.

Bookkeeping is a course which is a great aid for secretarial work. This bookkeeping class is working on one of their projects.

English

The emphasis on English at Smith High is very great because of its importance to every person in his communication with others through speaking, reading, and writing. In order to graduate, a student must have successfully completed five years of English.

In the first two years of English the emphasis is on basic principles of grammar and reading. In the third year, increased emphasis is placed on written expression. In addition to grammar and writing, the fourth year is concerned with the study of American literature, and in the fifth year British literature is studied.

In the fifth year, however, those students interested in college are encouraged to take accelerated English IV instead of the regular senior English. The accelerated class is taught on the college level and has greatly helped Oscar Smith graduates in college.

MRS. LOUISE JORDAN

MISS HARRIET GUTTERMAN
English II, III.

Mr. Jackson's Accelerated English students begin the tedious task of term papers.

The Planning Committee is discussing some of the future projects for the drama class.

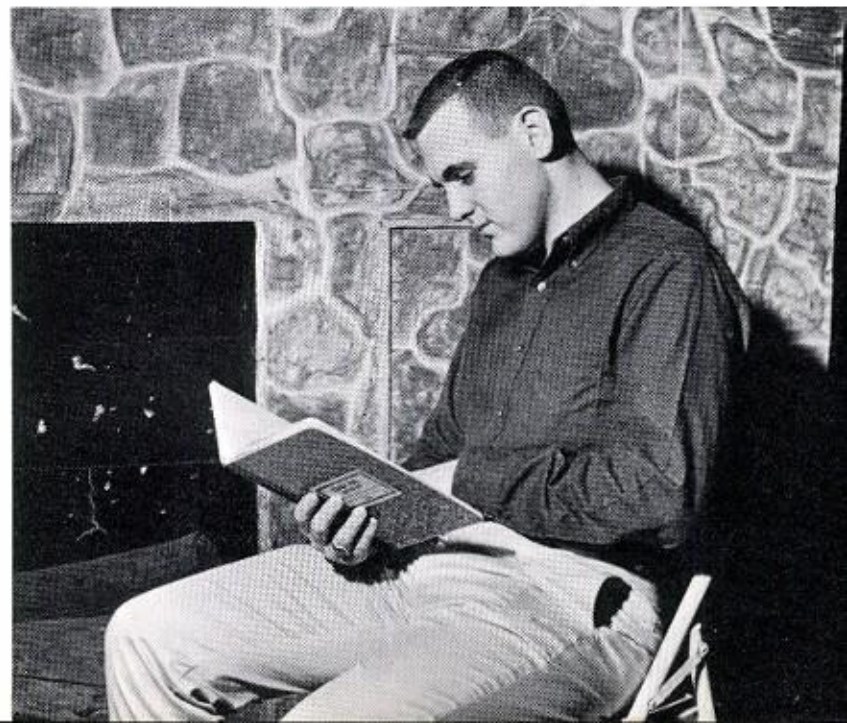
Tommy Scott uses knowledge gained in drama for a television program. Judy Levins, Linda Harper, and Lydia Tolson give their opinions on the subject.

"What are you doing, just hanging around? No! It's a pantomine of people on a bus."

Drama

A recent innovation at Smith High is the drama class. This class is useful in improving speech habits. This is only one phase of the course. Students also train in pantomine through both classroom instruction and participation. In addition, students study all the aspects of producing a play, and they gain practical experience through class activities.

Is Chester acting or studying?



Foreign Languages

Two French students make use of one of the audio-visual aids offered in the school.

The three foreign languages offered at Smith are Latin, French, and Spanish. Two years of each of these languages are generally pursued, but a third year is available when it is requested.

Besides learning how to speak and write the language, students also learn about the culture of the country from which the language originated.

This year, these three languages have been made even more interesting by the films shown to illustrate further the cultures of these countries.

History

This year the History Department is continuing its accelerated program, started last year.

For college-bound students, the required course begins with the eighth grade which includes Physical Geography and Ancient History, Medieval and Modern History, American Government, and a two year American History course.

The general program begins in the eighth grade and includes the cultural aspects of Ancient History, Physical Geography, American Government, American History, and World History in the senior year.

Mathematics

The Mathematics Department offers various types of mathematics study to the students. For those students pursuing a general program, general mathematics and basic mathematics are offered. For those students who are preparing for college, the department offers three years of algebra, plane and solid geometry, and trigonometry.

Mathematics is being taught in both its practical and theoretical aspects. This well-rounded program is essential in today's more technical and advanced occupations.

Science

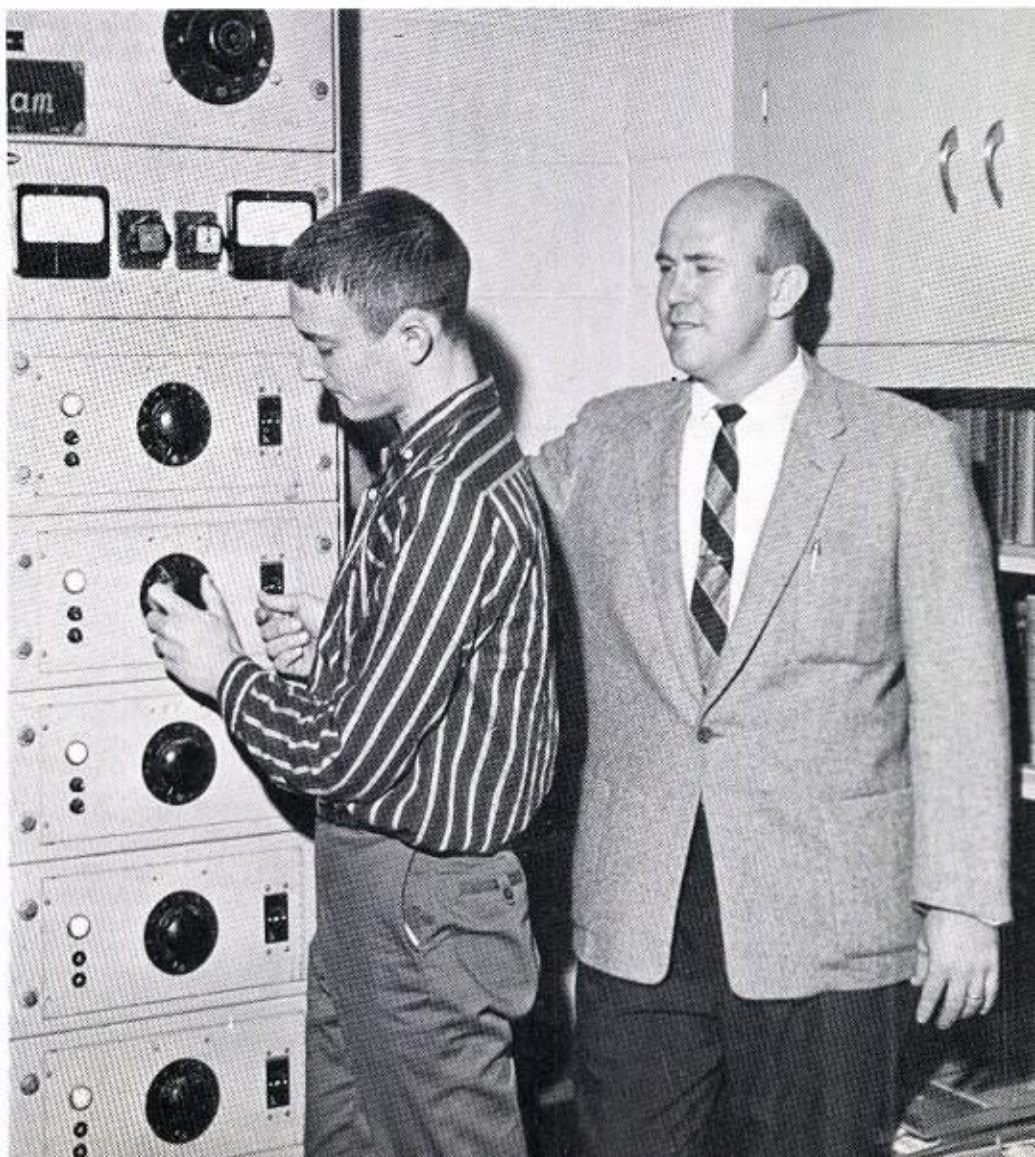
Today science has become more important than ever before, as our everyday life and occupations become more specialized, more technical, and complicated. Science is important also because it wakes new thought processes within us.

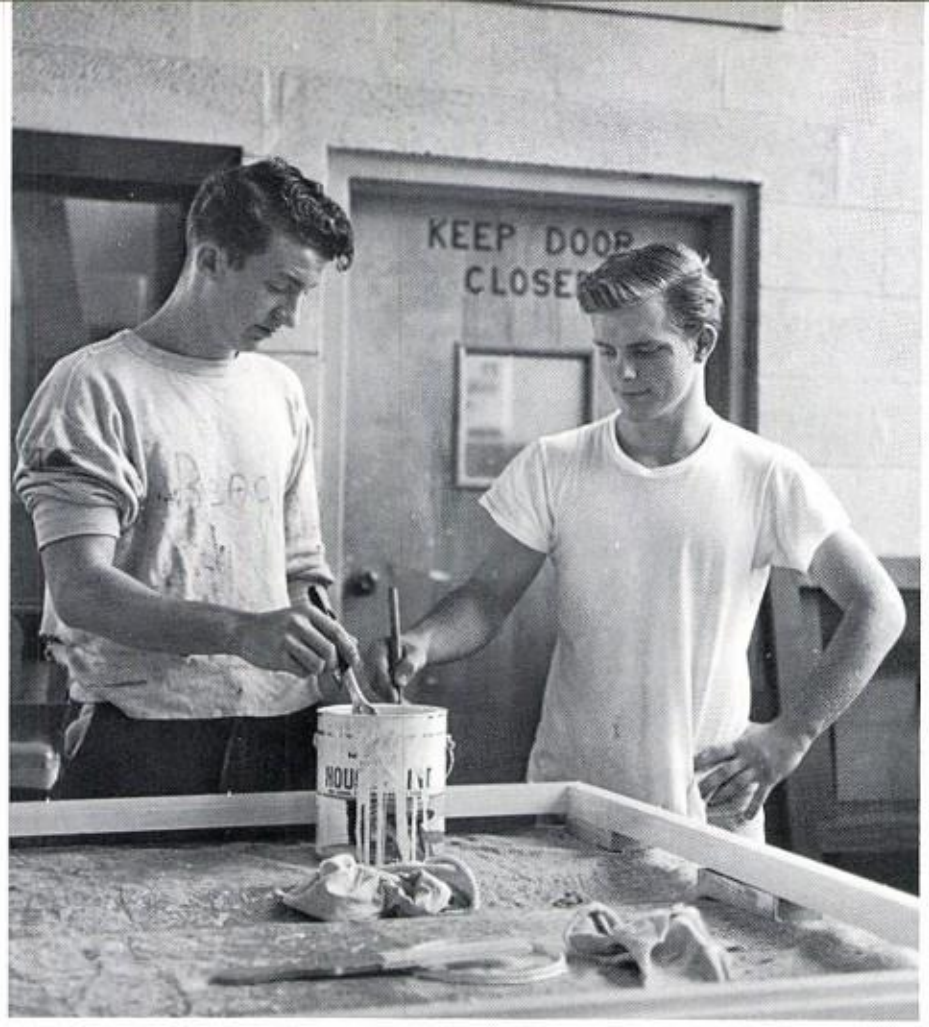
To achieve this, Smith High School offers various science courses. They are general science, biology, chemistry, and physics.

Don't worry Ruthie, I'm sure that Mr. Farris will give you an "A" for effort.

Mrs. Holloman explains to a group of biology students how the bioscope enlarges the picture.

Donnie and Carole seem to be too engrossed in this experiment with electricity to notice Mr. Hayburst.





One of the first things you have to learn in wood shop is how to mix paint.

Industrial Arts

Courses in mechanical drawing, wood shop, and general shop, a new addition, offer practical experience in the skills which will prove invaluable to many boys in their future occupations. The new addition, general shop, includes the teaching of metal and electrical work. This course provides the basis for industrial occupations.

Physical Education

The Physical Education Department places emphasis on physical fitness and team effort. Here students learn the individual skills which make a successful team.

Students are required to take gym through their sophomore year. It may be taken in the junior and senior years as an elective.

Some of the sports taught are soccer, volleyball, basketball, tennis, and baseball. The students also learn the basic skills of tumbling.

Formal health instruction is an essential part of the physical education program.

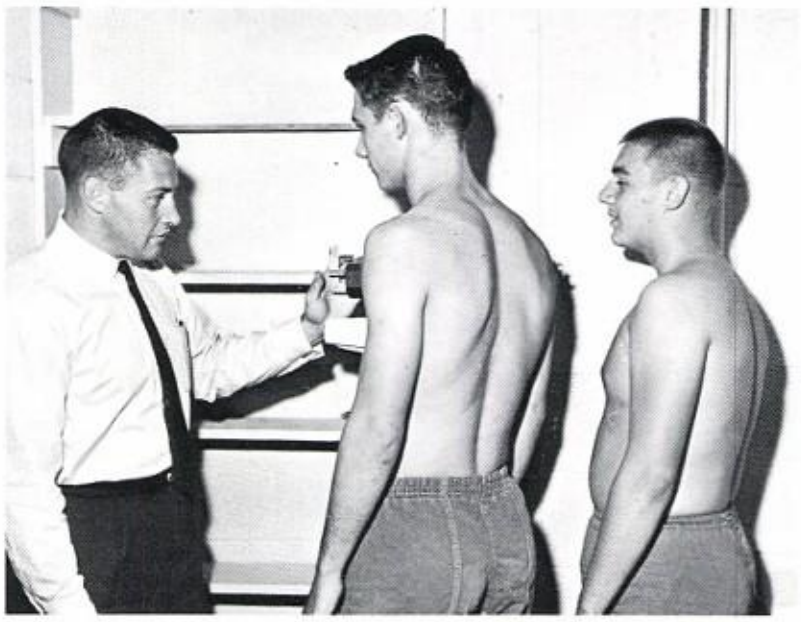
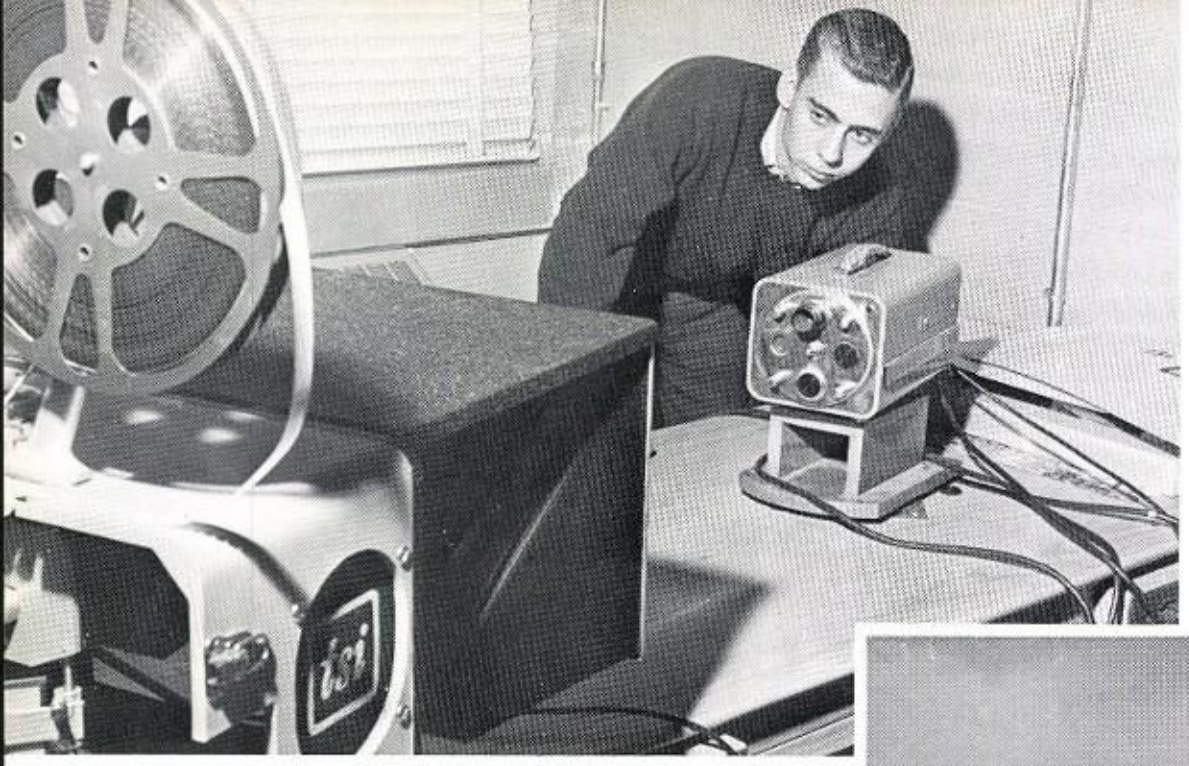
Mr. Hicks gives one of his many lectures to his boys' health class.

Boy! This touch football is murder.

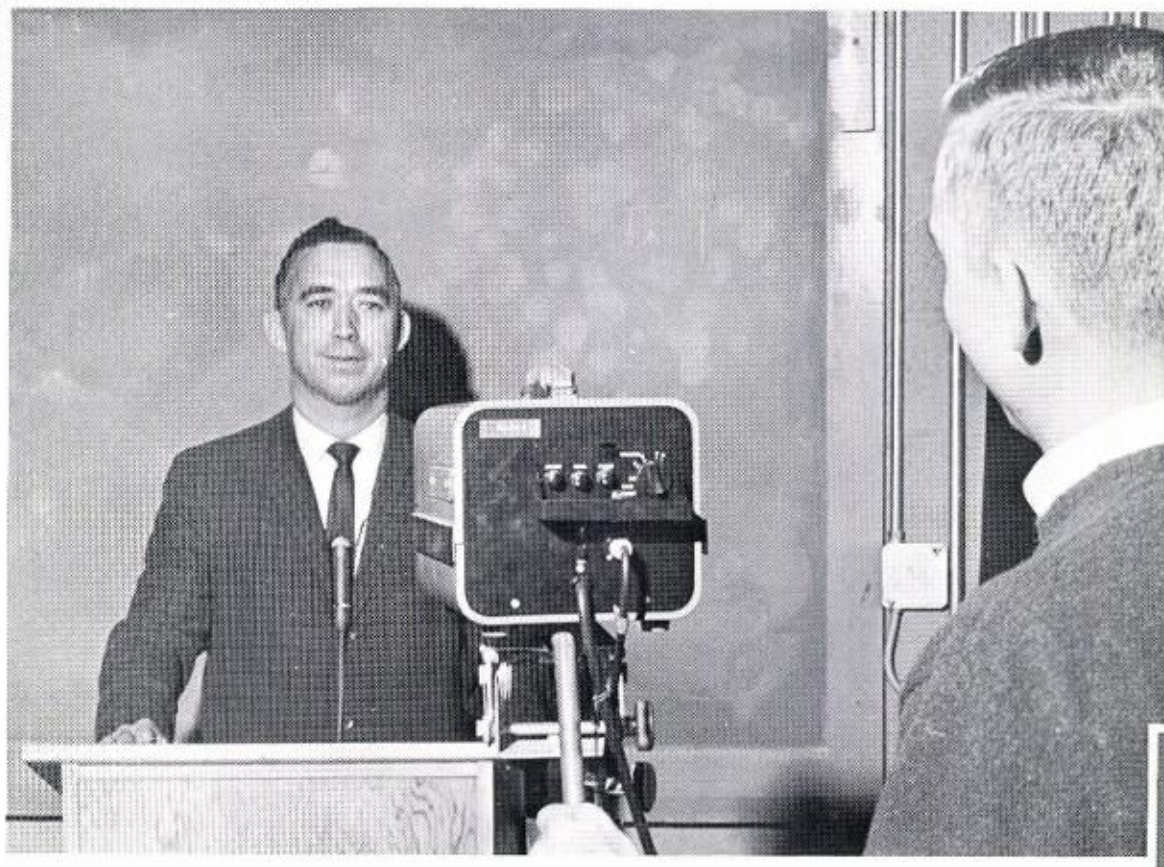
Mr. Hicks uses his head and saves Churchill for last.



Experimental T.V.

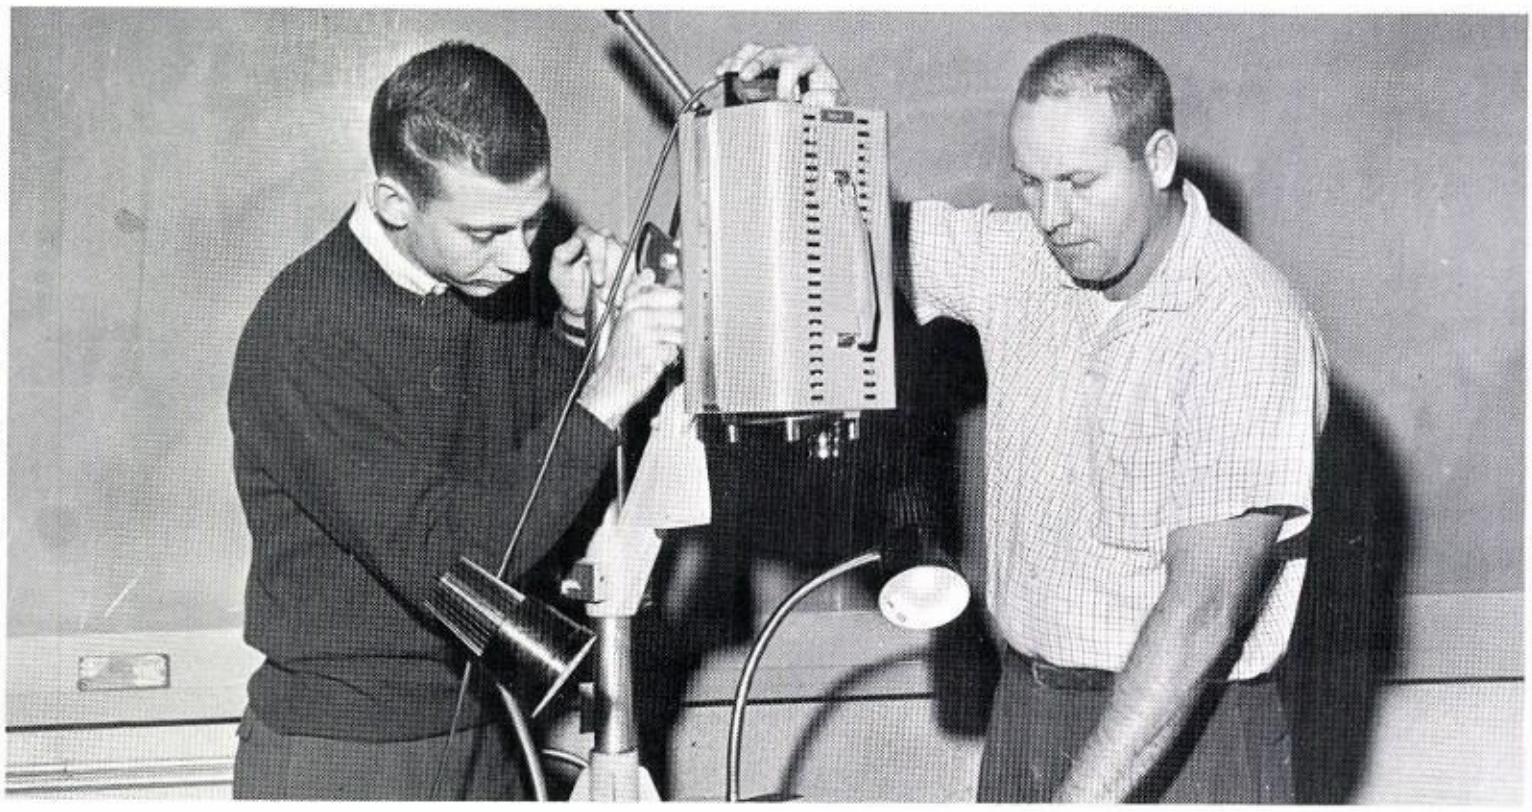


With the use of Camera #1, Mr. Rilee shows films to many classrooms.



Don't worry, Mr. Austin; your show will be over in a little while.

Mr. Rilee shows Mr. Garland how to arrange the apparatus to be shown on TV.



Is a Great Success

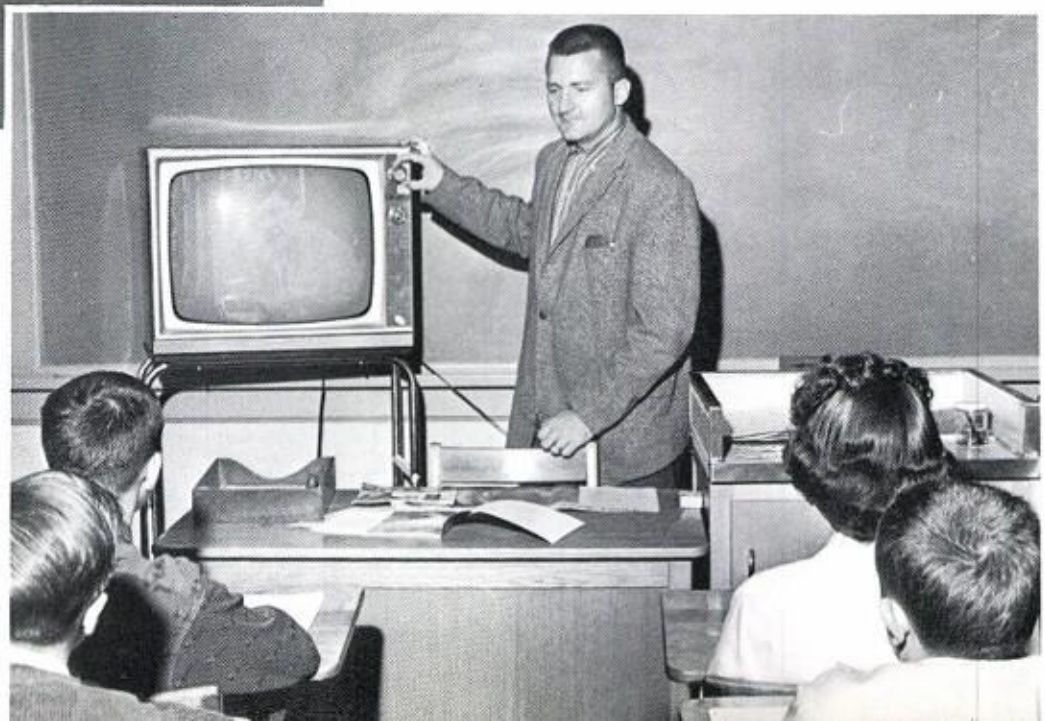
This year for the first time, Smith is using a closed-circuit television system within the school. Although the use of television is still in the experimental stage, it has proved to be an invaluable aid to the school.

Some of the uses for closed-circuit television this year have been showing films, live presentations of assemblies, and tests given to the students by the state.

Mr. Garland Jackson, head of the TV Department, has been a great help in teaching speech to those who appear on TV.

Mr. Rilee shows Mr. Leslie Austin a new film that has just arrived dealing with psychology.

Mr. Wisniewski, head of the History Department, prepares to appear before the American History classes.



With the aid of television, Mr. William Nagy shows his classes worthwhile films to help them in their studies.

ACTIVITIES

Student activities are coordinated as much as possible with our curriculum to balance our school life, giving us an opportunity to put to practical use the principles taught in the classroom.

Our activities are aimed toward helping the student discover and develop his capabilities, and his ability to work with others.

Through a varied activities program we learn the value of cooperation, leadership, honesty, and practice the art of good citizenship.

The annual staff heads and their sponsors worked very hard this year to produce an outstanding yearbook and to make it the best ever. The annual staff heads, when chosen, were inexperienced and "learned by doing." The heads were chosen for their positions on the basis of their capabilities. Each annual staff head had at least one assistant.

This year's advisers were invaluable to the completion of the book. They worked long and hard with the staff during and after school to produce an annual of which the student body will be proud.

Science Club

The Science Club is an organization which is new to the school. It consists of students who are especially interested in the various fields of science.

The club meets to discuss current science events and to construct science equipment. Since most of the members are also chemistry students, the club's activities are co-ordinated with the material learned in chemistry classes.

The Future Teachers Club is composed of students who are interested in becoming teachers. Many of the members gain practical experience through substituting for teachers at the elementary schools in the city.

A worthwhile project this year was the contribution of maps and globes to the social studies department.

Senior Monitors

A group that was reinstated in the organization of Smith High this year was the Senior monitors. This group has proved to be helpful in preventing food from being taken out of the lunchroom and thus preventing trash from collecting in the halls. During the lunch periods the monitors patrol the cafeteria making sure that all trash is disposed of correctly. This group is a part of the campaign for a cleaner Smith.

Homecoming

This year's homecoming festivities honored the 1938 graduates of Portlock High School and South Norfolk High School. The evening before the game, the 1938 graduates were guests of the S.C.A. at a homecoming banquet.

The princesses for homecoming were elected by the senior class, one girl from the three was chosen by the football team to reign as homecoming queen, and she was crowned by the co-captains at halftime ceremonies.

After the game a dance was sponsored by the S.C.A. in the school cafeteria. The football game's outstanding players, as selected by the coaches, were presented awards.

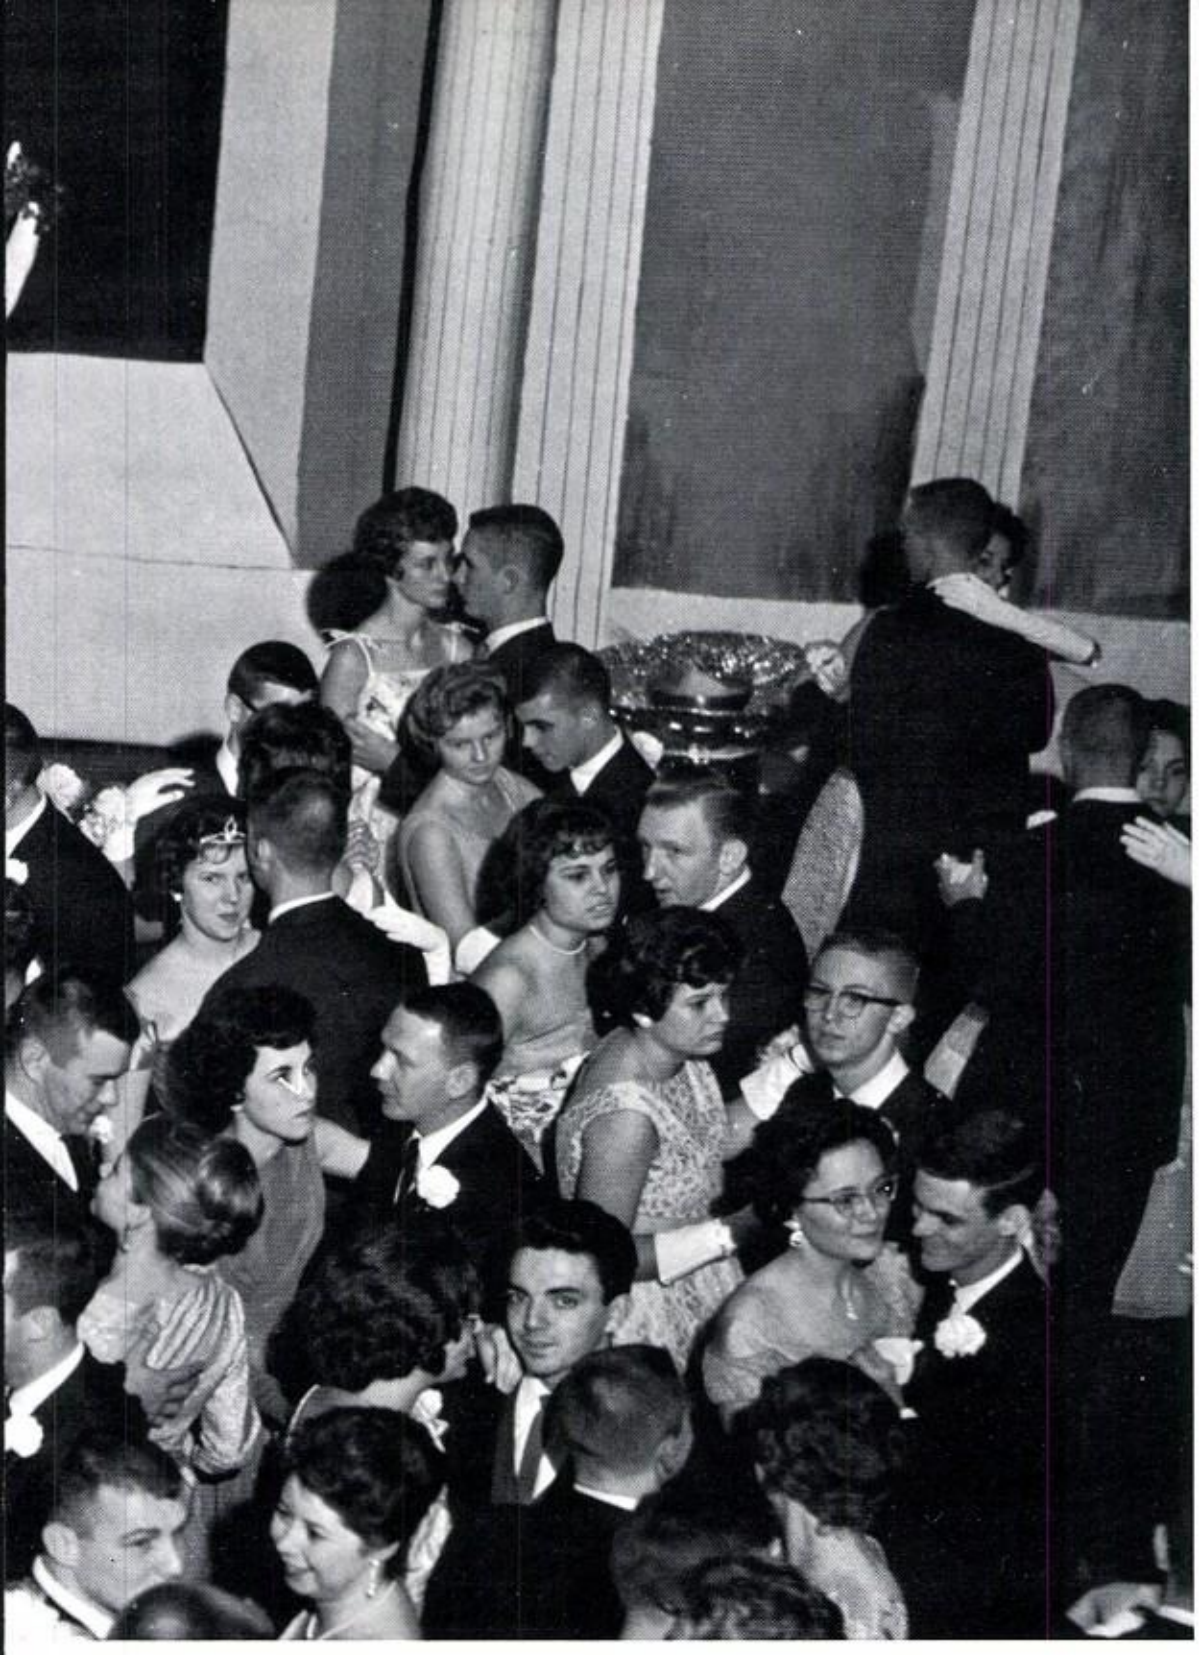
A successful dance.

Mr. McReynolds, Mrs. Burton, and Mrs. Grimstead were each presented a gift by Derris Raper, the class President.

Senior Dance

The Seniors proudly sponsored their dance, Roman Holiday, on December 9. Careful thought and planning were reflected by the beautiful scenery. Roman arches and a Roman fountain adorned the area where the couples posed for souvenir pictures. The scenery effectively turned back the clock to the era of the Roman Empire. The dance had a large attendance and turned out to be an enjoyable occasion for all.

Henry and Sharon seem to be having a serious talk.



The dance was fun but it's time to leave.

The Future Homemakers of America is a club that was organized for those girls who are interested in becoming better homemakers. During the year the club serves the school in many ways. This year the members collected money from the student body and from the different clubs to buy new shrubs for the school grounds. The club also provided food for a needy family at Christmas. Besides these service projects the members have many opportunities for social activities such as bowling, horseback riding, roller skating, and ice skating.

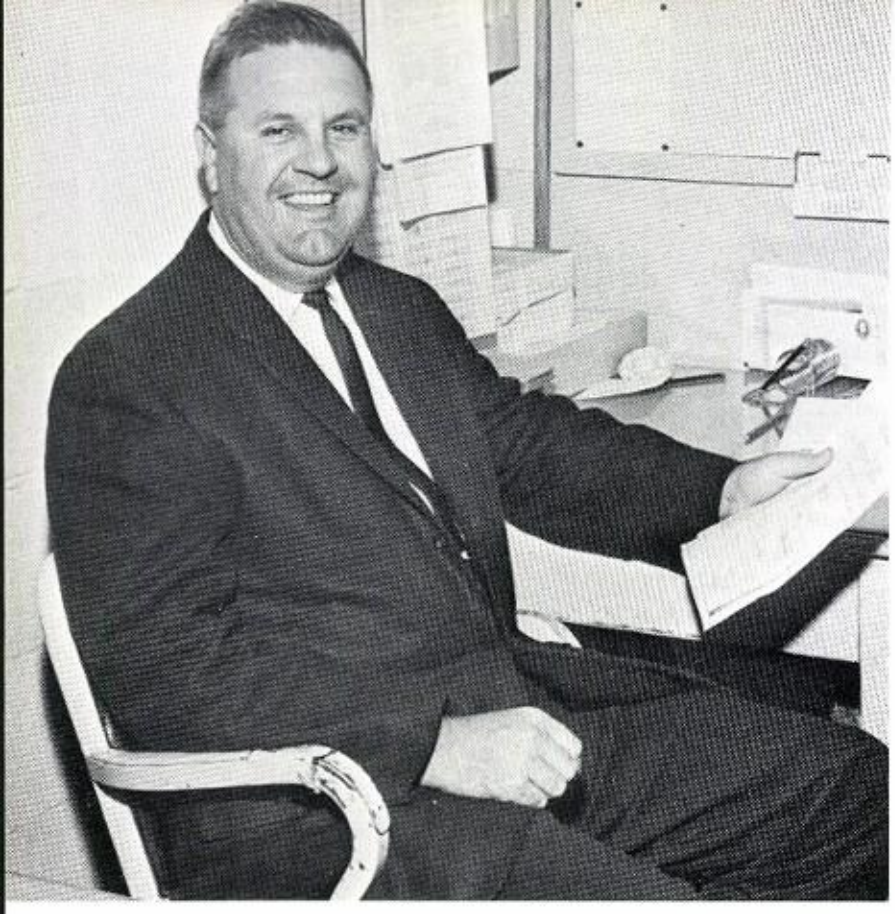
SPORTS

In athletics, as in every other aspect of our school life, honesty and fairness are emphasized. On the diamond, court, gridiron, track, and mat victory is the aim — but not at the expense of honesty and fairness.

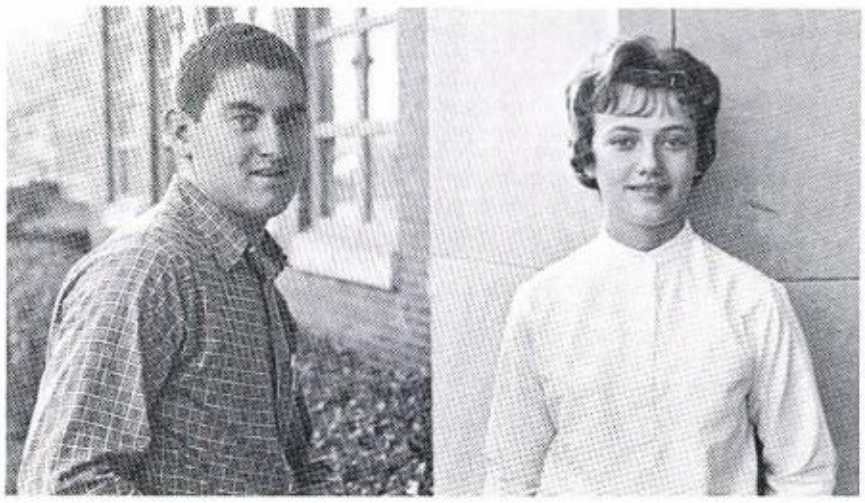
Teachers and students, working together, have put into action the words of our motto:

"When the one great scorer comes to write against your name it isn't whether you won or lost but how you played the game."

Athletic Director



Mr. Edward Drew, Athletic Director of Smith High School.



Donald Creef and Janie Mason were the outstanding students in salesmanship. They sold more season tickets than anyone and were rewarded by a free trip to Roanoke for the Smith-Jefferson Sr. game.

The Athletic Director has a major job in the school activities. He is in charge of all sports. He makes all schedules for the inter-scholastic sports games.

The Athletic Director is responsible for the buying of all equipment. He is also responsible for the sale of tickets for athletic games.

Chris Worrell makes use of one of the many facilities of the Athletic Department as Mr. Hicks tapes his ankle.

Mr. Drew begins the sale of season tickets by handing them out to members of the gym classes.

Mr. Drew, with the aid of Mrs. Moore, checks over the tickets for the approaching game.

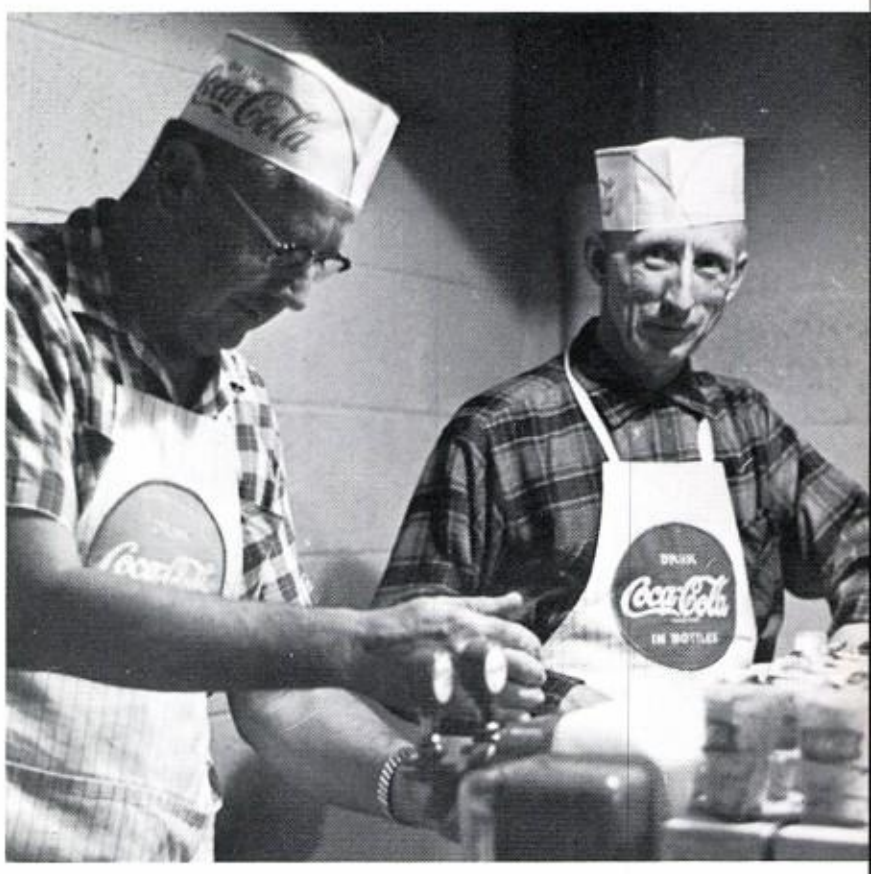
Mr. Drew and Mrs. Forehand count the money taken in at the previous football game.

Mrs. Jerry Long was the ticket seller at our home football games.



Mr. Radke and Mr. Kennon poured many drinks at our home games.

Mr. Lassiter turns on the lights for the game.

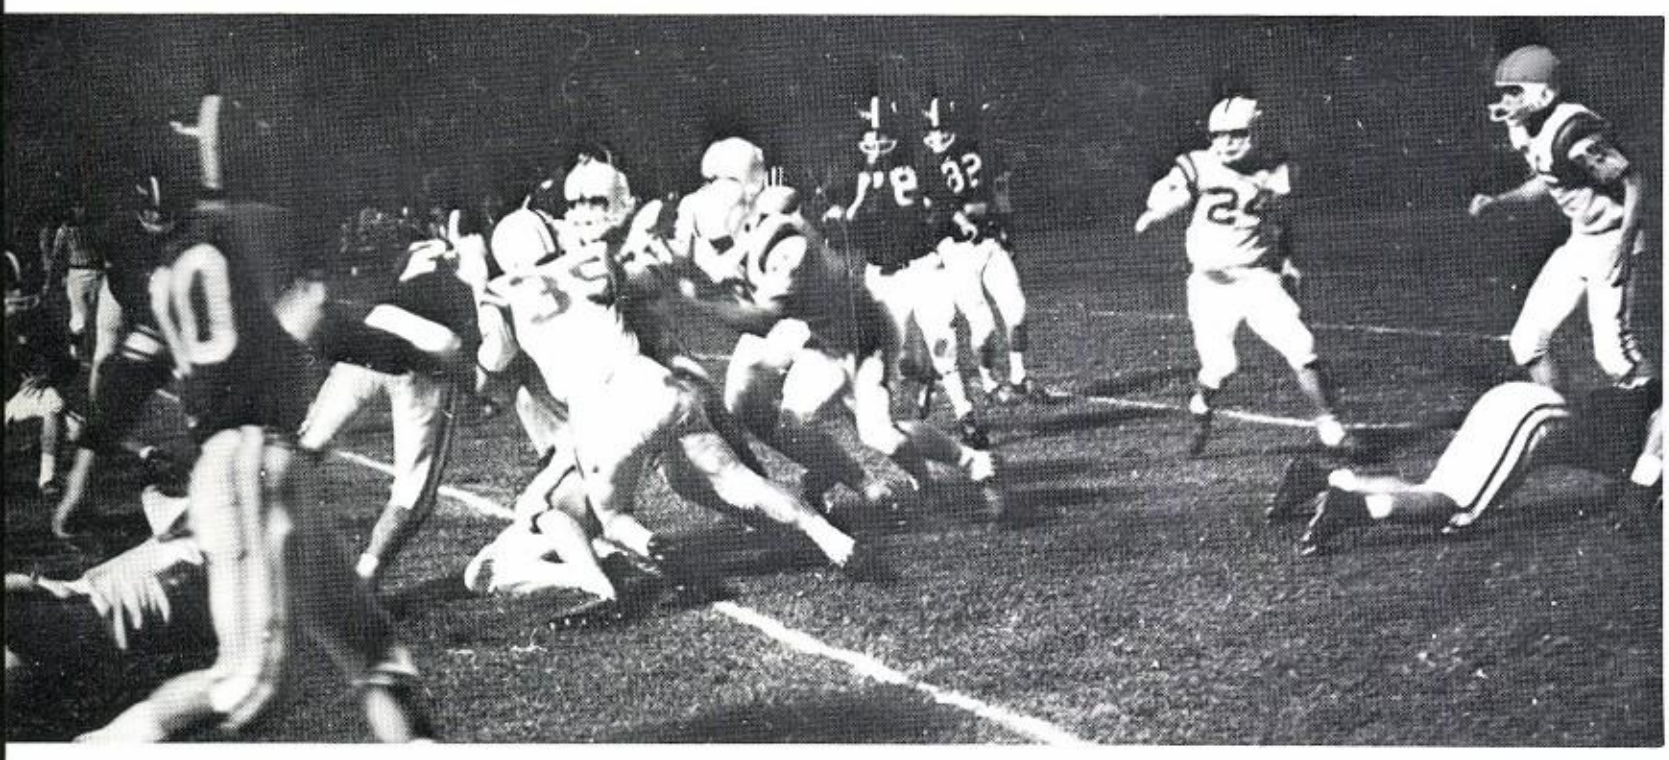
Best Season in Tigers' History

Coach Caldwell and Coach Hicks wait anxiously to see what effect that play will have on the game.

The 1961 season was the best in Smith's history. Under a new coach, and playing from a new formation, the "winged-T"; the Tigers led the Eastern district in offense and defense for much of the season.

Led by Henry Thomas, Smith's All Tidewater quarterback, the Tigers rolled up an 8—1—1 record, the best in the school's history. The Tigers defeated Hampton, Wilson, Cradock, York, Jefferson Senior, Warwick, Churchland, and Suffolk. In a hard-fought game the Tigers were held to a tie by Great Bridge, and in the last game of the season the Tigers suffered their only defeat at Princess Anne.

The '61 Tigers are a team to be proud of and will be long remembered.



Wayne Creef heads up the middle and runs into five big obstacles at Wilson.

1961 RECORD

Oscar Smith	27	Hampton	0
Oscar Smith	21	Wilson	7
Oscar Smith	13	Great Bridge	13
Oscar Smith	12	Cradock	0
Oscar Smith	37	York	6
Oscar Smith	21	Roanoke	0
Oscar Smith	13	Warwick	7
Oscar Smith	19	Churchland	6
Oscar Smith	43	Suffolk	6
Oscar Smith	13	Princess Anne	31

4

1. Jimmy Kent — An outstanding defensive halfback and offensive end, Kent stopped many touchdowns on defense. His pass interceptions probably saved more than one game for the Tigers. 2. Jesse Greenough — Greenough was one of our key linemen on offense. At offensive tackle, Jesse's blocks have resulted in a lot of yardage for our backfield. 3. Tommy McMillan — Not one of our starting backs, Tommy stayed with the team faithfully. He helped train our pass defense and worked hard at practice all season. 4. Ben Forbes — Though Ben wasn't on the first string, he worked hard all season. Ben filled in as halfback in the Churchland and Suffolk games and did a fine job. 5. Tommy Chastain — Tommy was also an important member of the team though he wasn't on the first string. He helped our linemen in practice and worked faithfully all season.

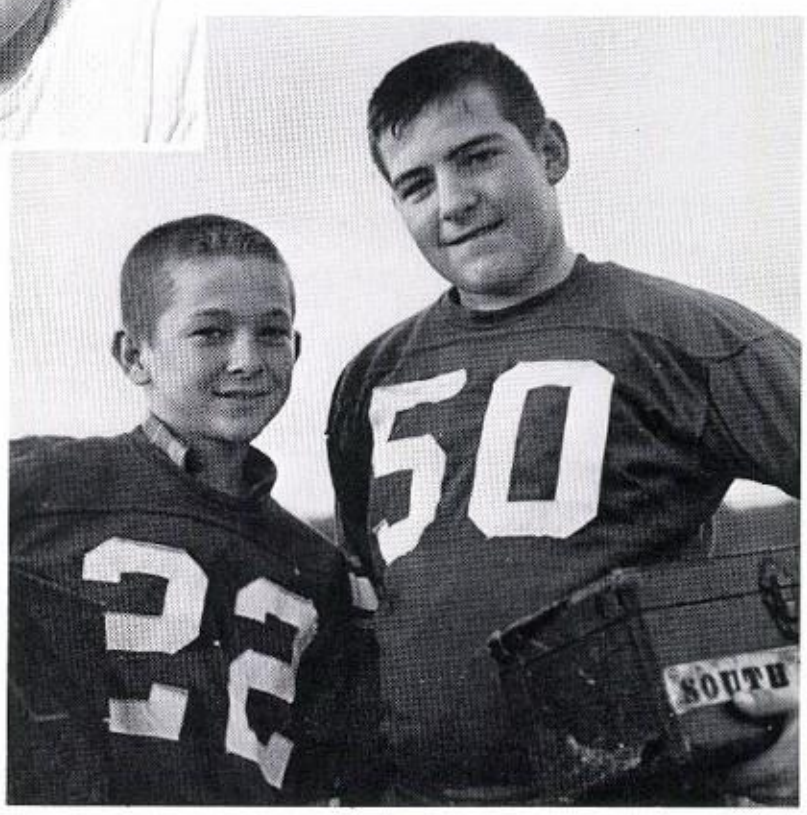
6. Henry Thomas — The smallest player in the Tiger lineup, Henry was one who drew attention. As quarterback and co-captain, Henry directed the attack, ran back punts and kickoffs and led the team in pass interceptions with nine for one season. Henry was our most valuable player.

Mr. Hayhurst is in charge of equipment.



Gatewood Etheridge and Harold Jones are managers for the "MIGHTY TIGERS."

7. Lewis Love — Lewis, our other co-captain, was a standout in the line. At guard, Lewis called the defensive plays and on offense his blocking was tops.

8. Larry Harrell — Our offensive center and a tackle on defense, Larry did a great job at both positions. He played an outstanding game at Wilson and Roanoke. 9. Bobby Brooks — As a defensive linebacker, Brooks was outstanding in almost every game. He and Thomas were chosen as the most valuable players in our Homecoming game with Warwick. 10. Bobby Johnson — Bobby was an end on both offense and defense. This was Bobby's first year with the team and he did an outstanding job. He made many fine tackles on defense and blocked an important kick at Cradock. 11. Bill Potter — Potter, a defensive linebacker and offensive guard, was a standout at both positions. He made many tackles in our toughest games. 12. Billy Overton — Billy did a great job as a defensive end for the Tigers. He blocked important punts at Warwick and Churchland and was a standout on defense at Roanoke.

The Varsity Cheerleaders have worked especially hard this year to promote school spirit. The results of their work were apparent when the team ended the football season with the best record in the history of the school.

Besides cheering at home and away football games, they also cheered at pep assemblies and basketball games.

The cheerleaders donned a new attire for cheering at basketball games. Instead of the usual sweaters and skirts, they wore blouses, vests, and skirts.

The J. V. Tigers had a very slow start this season. In their first outing they were able to tie Great Bridge after 40 minutes of hard playing. As the season progressed, the players improved. The baby Tigers were very impressive in conquering two undefeated teams — Barry Robinson and Cradock. They finished the season with 5 wins, 2 losses, and 1 tie. Outstanding players were Emmitt Wallace, Jimmy Furlough, Angelo Russo, Preston Pate, Mike Flora, and Robin Sherman.

J.V. Cheerleaders

The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders promote school spirit at home football games, basketball games, and at pep rallies. This training offers the cheerleaders an opportunity to cheer on the Varsity Squad.

The J. V. cheerleaders are composed of only freshmen and sophomores.

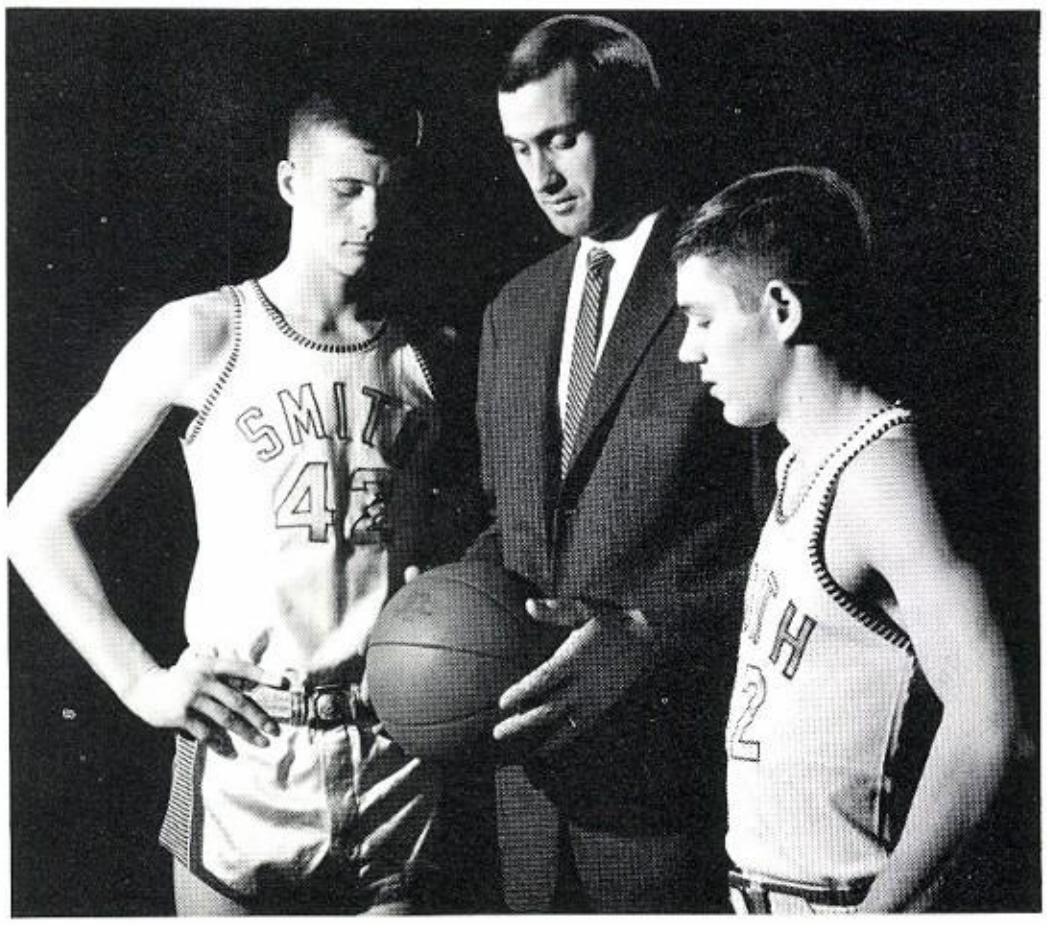
Basketball



Coach Coates gives Tommy Inman and Billy Overton a few pointers at practice.

This season, under Mr. Coates' coaching, the Tigers broke their long losing streak and began what looks like a comeback in the next few years.

In a big upset, the Tigers defeated Warwick in an inspired game. In front of a big crowd two nights later Norfolk Academy fell to the Tigers. On the following night, before an even larger crowd here in the gym, Princess Anne defeated us in overtime in one of the most exciting basketball games seen here in a long time.

More upsets are expected in the last half of the season from a Tiger squad which has proved its ability on the court. High scorers so far are Tommy Inman and Mike LeDoyen.

Things are looking up for basketball fans at Smith, and this year's team deserves the credit.

JV Basketball

Some good prospects this season on the J.V. team promise a fine varsity in the next few years.

Coach Hicks has some tall boys to work with and the whole team is still growing.

High scorers so far are Mike Flora and Kenny DeLong.

The team is eager and they want to win. What more can you ask for?

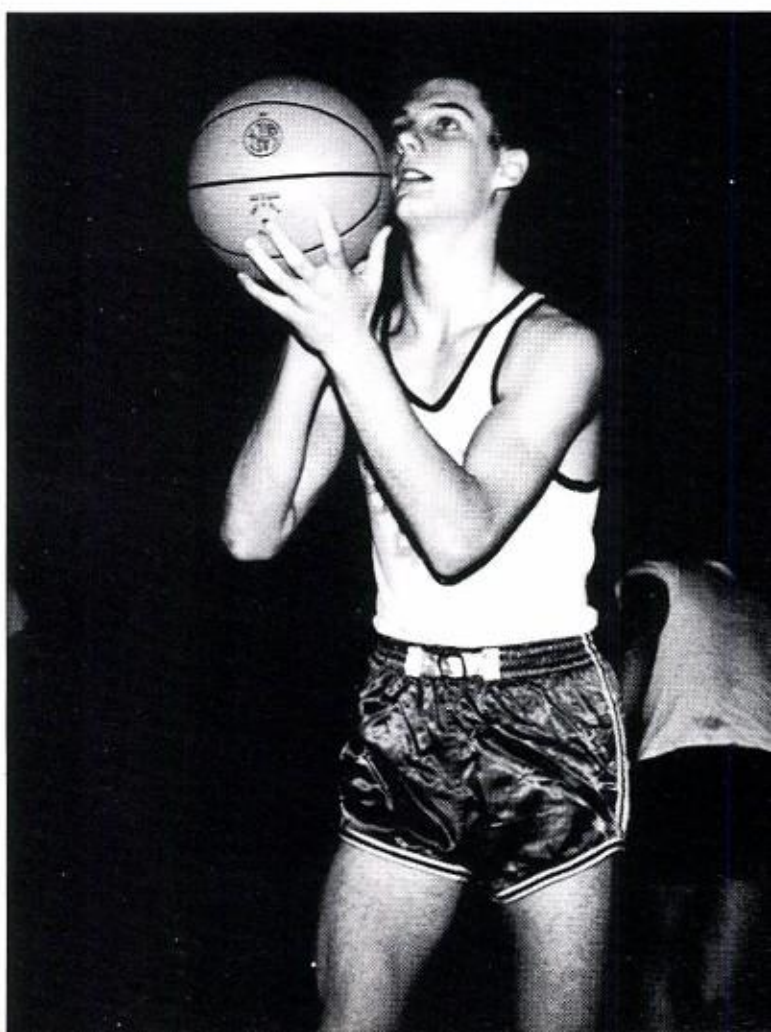
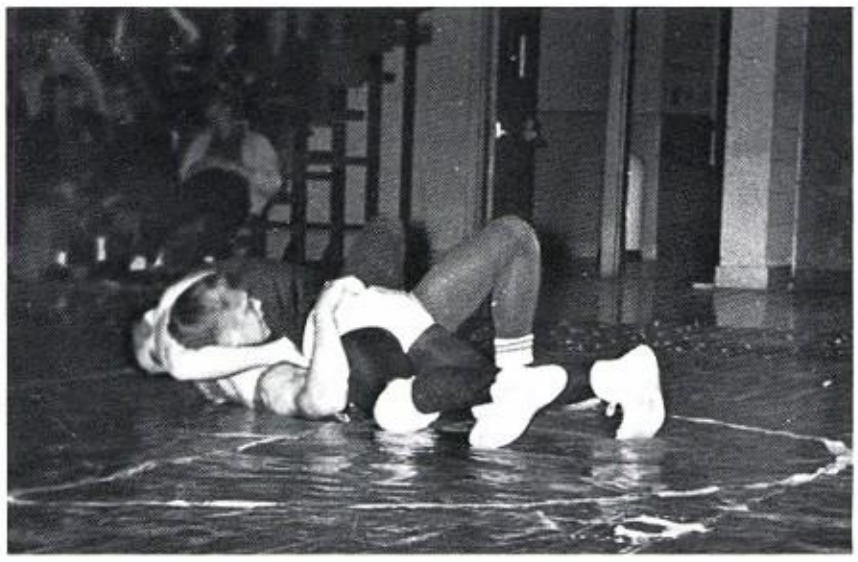
Coach Hicks looks over the schedule for the next week.

Mike concentrates on making this basket.



Coach Nagy gives co-captains Potter and Hollingsworth some pointers on the correct starting or "referee's" position.



It looks like another pin for Lewis as he tightens up on that half-nelson.

Wrestling

Coach Bill Nagy has never been one to let his wrestling teams loaf and this year is no exception. Hard work makes a good wrestling team and several hours of hard practice a day is the only way to get in shape.

Concentration on the basic holds, and getting in plenty of hard wrestling is Coach Nagy's formula. It's a tough formula, but it builds good wrestlers.

Many of this years standouts are seniors, including Lewis Love, Joe Johnson, and co-captains Freddie Hollingsworth and Bill Potter.

On the mat, conditioning and experience both count a lot and the Tigers rate high in both categories.

Many of the inexperienced team members go up against seasoned opponents the first time, but they are showing up well and we look for a good team next year.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Underclassmen, 8th, 9th, 10th and 11th graders, stand today in the midst of the great adventure to reach its climax.

Some are wise, some foolish; some willing, some unwilling; some sad, some happy as they move ahead together, meeting and solving daily probelms as they and their school move forward.

We, the seniors of today, salute you, the seniors of tomorrow.

Eighth Grade

The pre-freshman class, or eighth grade class, is a relatively new addition to Smith High School. Their courses are now counted for the credits toward graduation. The pre-freshmen have the advantage of being able to select their courses of study from a newly-organized curriculum. This new curriculum contains more highly-specialized courses in preparation for college as well as general and business courses.

In order that they might have time to become adjusted to high school life and become acquainted with their classmates before they elected their class officers, they did not conduct elections until January.

Freshmen

The freshman at Smith is no longer the lowest classman because the freshman has become the second year of high school. Therefore, because he has a year of high school behind him, the freshman is now more assured and more familiar with his surroundings.

The freshman class is active in the clubs and organizations of the school. Many freshmen participate in inter-scholastic sports such as junior varsity football and basketball. Freshman girls have the opportunity of being on the junior varsity cheering squad.

Smith's First Scholastic Team

Oscar Smith High School will be participating for the first time in the second year of the Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch's scholastic achievement program.

Each of the 18 participating high schools in Tidewater selects a team of its top scholars each semester. From the two teams of eight the school will select one person for the All-Tidewater Scholastic Achievement Team. From that team a committee of judges will select a senior to receive the newspaper's $2,000 scholarship.

On January 26 Oscar Smith's first-semester team was announced by the newspaper. The scholars are: seniors, Edward Rae Cahoon and Derris Lea Raper; juniors, George Kent Harding and Rebecca Susan Todd; sophomores, Richard Van Johnson and Connie Anne White; freshmen, Bettie Jean Capehart and James Harrison Weise.

Sophomores

The sophomore year is an in-between year. The sophomore is not a lower-classman but he is not yet an upper-classman either. By this time, he has usually become adapted to the routine of high school, and the sophomore at Smith is no exception.

The sophomores serve the school in many ways: by being active in various clubs, by serving as SCA representatives, and by working in the office.

Juniors

This year's Junior Class, with a competent slate of officers and good sponsors, was a benefit to the school through their cooperation and ingenuity.

The annual Junior Dance was presented in the school cafeteria February 17. With its theme "Southern Rhapsody" it was a great success.

With this and other projects the Junior Class had a full year of activities.

SENIORS

We, the seniors of '62, look with pride upon the school which has given us so much in four such short years.

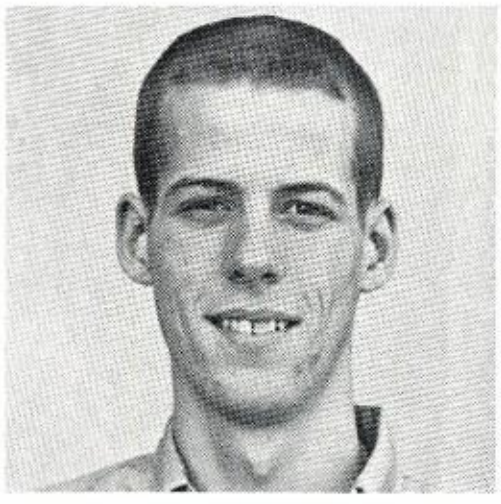
Being a senior carries with it both honor and responsibility. We can only hope we have deserved the honors and live up to the responsibility.

We have done our best. If it has been good enough, let us place the credit where it belongs, in the halls of Smith High School. The opportunities have been ours, the future will determine what we have made of them.

Seniors

The most monumental change inaugurated by this year's Senior Class is the institution of a special night to present to Senior parents the forthcoming year's activities. So great a success was the meeting that it will in all probability appear annually. The Senior program ranged all the way from the fairly recent innovation of the Senior luncheon given by the school to the time-honored Senior dance which had a Roman setting this year. This year's class may not be as large as some past classes, but it is not to be outdone. The banquet at the Hague Club and the Prom at the Alan B. Shepard Dome of Virginia Beach rounded out the year.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS: Derris Raper, President; Peggy Mitchell, Secretary; Anne Chappell, Treasurer; Chester Cahoon, Vice-President; Sylvia Weatherington, Reporter.



The senior class is proud to have Derris Raper as its Class President.

Derris and his sponsor, Mrs. Edna Raper.

With school behind you . . .
what's ahead?

College, perhaps? Wonderful! A job? Wonderful, too, if it's the right one—with opportunities to progress and learn as well as earn. There are many such jobs at C&P, waiting for girls like you. In a telephone job, you not only start with good pay but are specially trained to make more. Raises and advancements are frequent. Surroundings are pleasant—people are friendly—and your work is never dull. Why not make your first job a telephone job—one that can lead to a happy, rewarding career?
